| Monday | NO SCHOOL |
| Tuesday | In math, we have started working on shapes. We will spend the week working on the basic shapes and then move onto 3 dimensional shapes. The children are very comfortable with the regular shape but have a tough time with cube, cone, sphere and cylinder. Our story today was called Abiyoyo . The children loved this folktale. In Science we read From Seed to Pumpkin and sequenced pumpkin pictures as an assessment. |
| Wednesday | Our story today was called Little Mouse and the Big Red Apple . The children wrote about their favorite character in the story. We are working on story elements. We will focus on the characters first. We have introduced storytelling in the classroom. The great part.....the stories are coming from the children. Some stories we act out and others we just read. The children LOVE telling us stories and they beam when their story is being acted out or read aloud... I opened the art center today. The children had a chance to use water colors. It was a big hit this afternoon. |
| Thursday | Today we heard a cute story called Bad Apple . It was a nice story about friendship. The children used the watercolor again and painted a picture of their favorite part. In math we used pattern blocks to explore shapes. |
| Friday | What a quick week. In our ELA block we read one of my favorite fall stories called Too Many Pumpkins . We stopped reading ½ way thru and the children had to predict what would happen at the end of the story. We had centers in math today. The children were able to move from table to table to work on shapes, writing numbers to 5 and counting objects. |
